GILBERT AND SULLIVAN'S PINAFORE A HUGE TRIUMPH FOR GLEE CLUBS

Ever Popular Classic of Light Opera Presented
According to the Best Traditions of the Stage

MUCH PRAISE DUE THE EFFORTS OF MR. DALGLISH

Combined Men and Women's Musical Organizations Demonstrate Their Ability to Do Something Really Good—Miss Edna Henderson, '26, Evinces Marked Talent as Singer and Actress on Her First Appearance—LeRoy Conner, '24, and Mildred Bangs, '23, Brilliantly

Under the able direction of Walter M. Dalglish, the combined Glee Clubs of the University of New Hampshire gave a highly creditable presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "H. M. S. Pinafore" on Wednesday, June 6. The excellence of the operetta was well attested by the large and appreciative audience that filled the gymnasium. "H. M. S. Pinafore" is perhaps the most difficult piece of work that has ever been produced by the Glee Clubs. The evident success of the organizations proves that their real capabilities have been untested in the past and that from now on they will be able to utilize musical performances of higher calibre.

The center of action is aboard the quarter deck of the good ship, "Pinafore." Sir Joseph Potter, K. C. B., admiral of the fleet, seeks the hand of the captains daughter, Josephine. The plot assumes complications when she vows that she loves another, one who is nothing but a "lowly" sailor. She attempts to elope with her lover, Ralph Rackstraw, but upon discovery the violent tempered Sir Joseph orders the "lowly" sailor thrown into chains. Here "Little Buttercup" enters the plot in her full capacity declaring Rackstraw to be the true captain of the ship. Sir Joseph immediately changes his opinion of the daughter and the father reduced to in making the operetta a success. The delightful scenic and lighting effects were due to the efforts of Messrs. Caulstone, '24, Johnson, '25, Goodwin, '23, and Handy, '26.

YEARLINGS BEAT TILTON SCHOOL IN SLOW GAME

Game Called in Sixth by Rain—O'Hayre Hits Hard Captain Foote's Men End Up-and-Down Season

The freshman baseball team closed its regular 1923 schedule here at Durham on Thursday, June 7, with a 12 to 2 victory over Tilton school. This was the second game of the year between the two teams, the freshmen having previously defeated the prep school boys at Tilton.

Tilton was weak in every department of the game. Captain Foote's men hit Pucci, the Tilton hurler, at will, and the Tilton infield helped the hard-working Frosh along by booting several balls with men on the bases. Barnes pitched a good game for his

Sophs No Match for 1926 Team in One-Sided Game—Last Contest Between Two Lower Classes

Playing the annual Freshman-Sophomore baseball game, the last contest held between the two rival classes, on June 12, the class of 1926 ran away with 1925 to the tune of 8 to 0 in six innings. The Freshmen lost their football game to the Sophs, 3 to 0, but have since won the track meet, basketball game and baseball game.

The Frosh played a good brand of baseball and deserved to win. The Sophs were unable to fathom the fast ball of "Barnsy" and only had a man on third once during the game. Drew pitched for the upperclassmen and was hit freely by the slugging freshmen. Poor support in the pinches also contributed to his team's defeat. Eddie O'Connor was the "Big Bam" of the match whaling out two two-baggers and one three-bagger in his three times at bat.

The Freshmen scored their first run in the first inning. Michelson made first on a wild throw, stole second and scored from second on Foote's Texas leaguer over second base. Applin made a pretty throw home from center field but Baldie dropped the ball.

The Frosh scored again in the second. O'Connor made third base on a long fly that Chase muffed. Drew walked Evans, who promptly stole second; Evans then stole third with O'Connor on the bag. Baldie touched him out on the run home. Evans then scored on Roy's sacrifice fly to center field.

The third was the big inning for the freshmen. Stimson, the first man up, made a pretty hit; Michelson advanced him to second and got on himself on a hit and run play. O'Hayre's hit advanced Stimson to third but Michelson was caught at second. Stimson scored on Foote's hit, O'Hayre scored on a sweet bingle by Eaton, then both Foote and Eaton scored on Eddie O'Connor's two-bagger. O'Connor scored on Roy's hit. The inning ended with the freshmen seven runs ahead. They gathered one more run in the fifth when the hard hitting O'Connor gathered in his third hit of the day, a three-bagger. He scored on a wild throw to second base by the right fielder.

The game was called at the end of the sixth inning at the suggestion of the Sophomore captain who apparently realized that the big lead of the freshmen could not be overcome.

INSTRUCTION TRIP MADE BY CLASS IN ADVANCE SOCIOLOGY

Inspect State Hospital for Insane—Make Short Visit to State Prison—Accompanied by Dean French and Mr. Pasquale

On the afternoon of Thursday, June 18, nine students of the advanced seminar course in Sociology were taken on an instruction trip to Concord ably chaperoned by Dean French and Mr. Pasquale of the department. They inspected the State Hospital for the Insane, and made a short visit to the State Prison.

They investigated the methods of classification, housing, and control of the inmates of the former institution, and visited the latter only in order to compare it with the naval prison at Portsmouth, visited by the class a short time ago.

Dean French was snatched away from the guards after a short, but sharp struggle, by the members of the visiting group and the party returned to Durham Thursday evening.

L. FERNALD NEW CAPTAIN

Team Average Shows 56-Point Lead Over Opponents' Batting Average—Win 8, Lose 4 Games of Schedule

At a meeting of the Athletic Association Executive Committee, held on June 11, Varsity baseball letters were awarded to thirteen men. The team has played 12 games this season, winning eight and losing four. The games lost were all close and should have been won by the New Hampshire team if a few of the breaks had come their way.

The letter men, at a meeting held June 12, immediately after the squad picture was taken, elected Lang Fernald captain of the team for next year. "Lang" is one of the most popular men on the campus. He was graduated from Laconia High School and since coming to New Hampshire has made two letters both in baseball and basketball. On the day of his election to the baseball captaincy, he was elected president of the Student Council by the student body of the University. He is a member of Senior Skulls, Casque and Casket, and the A. T. O. fraternity. Following is a list of the letter men and the team averages for the year.

RAIN HOLDS UP PI GAMMA YACHT TRIP

But a Banquet on Durham Point Makes Up for It—Many Alumni Attend—Stunts and Dancing Follow

The rainy weather made it necessary for the members of Pi Gamma fraternity to substitute a banquet at Langely's for an elaborately planned yacht trip down Great Bay on Saturday, June 9. However, they reconciled themselves with a lobster and clam dinner, followed by stunts and dancing. Sunday morning found them all in Durham, some with as many as four lobsters to their credit. A number of their alumni were back to enjoy the final meeting of the year.

FINAL INFORMAL DANCE IS VERY WELL ATTENDED

The last informal dance of the year was held Saturday evening, June 9, in the gymnasium. The dance was very well attended. Music was furnished by members of the College orchestra.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. John Kendall and Coach and Mrs. Harvey Cohn.

the station of the sailor. He is later supposed to marry Little Buttercup. The play was extremely well acted throughout. The voices of the leading characters, especially, deserve commendation.

Perhaps the "Star" among the major characters was Edna Henderson, '26, as "Little Buttercup." She literally "carried the house by storm" and it is doubly remarkable since this is her first appearance on the stage. LeRoy Conner, '24, made a brilliant performer in the character of the foppish Admiral, Sir Joseph Potter. His voice, and more especially his acting, were a decided feature of the show.

The part of Captain Cocoran was creditably performed by George A. Twombly, '25, while Ralph Rackstraw was well portrayed by Parker S. Wilder, '24.

The character of Dick Deadeye was cleverly played by Carl C. Chase, '25. He rose splendidly to a very difficult character part.

The part of Josephine, the Captain's daughter, was very well sung by Mildred Bangs, '23, and Ida Neil, '25, did more than justice to the part of Hebe, Sir Joseph's first cousin.

Reginald Hartwell, '25, and Bradford McIntire, '25, completed a very successful cast as Boatswain and Boatswain's Mate, respectively.

The chorus in the character of Sir Joseph's sisters, cousins, aunts and sailors of the Pinafore, assisted ably team and kept the Tilton hits well scattered. The day was dark and weather conditions made the big boy's fast ball most effective.

The game was called in the last of the sixth on account of rain. The freshmen scored in every inning but the fourth, when they went out in one, two, three, or four.

Simpson scored in the third for Tilton on a wild throw to third by Roy. Knightly scored in the fourth on a pretty two-bagger by Johnson. O'Hayre was the star of the day at bat, driving out two sweet three baggers. Captain Foote garnered three hits in four times at bat. Gene Tetzlaff took Davis's place in left field early in the game.

One of the terms used frequently on the Campus in regard to student activities is "self-government." What does this mean to the average University man or woman? In the majority of cases it has the opposite effect from what is intended. Instead of a feeling of personal responsibility for Campus affairs, the student takes shelter in the number like himself, and no reliability of character is developed. At the end of four years of romping through an educational course, the graduate goes into the world's affairs with the idea that many of the necessary side issues of life can be avoided. Let George do the work.

Statisticians say that only one man in twenty from all walks of life is capable of assuming leadership. The average man or woman in the higher institutions of learning is not yet capable of self government. Just out of high school, not matured in ability or judgment, the student still needs a guiding hand.

Character is the expression of a mass of habits. Lack of support has already put one N. H. periodical on the rocks. The weekly organ of the institution pleads often for support from the student body with discouraging results. Glee and Dramatic Clubs are gasping to survive. Our debating teams have the undivided attention of an auditorium packed with empty chairs. When nationally famous men such as Holt and Slosson are here, a dozen students turn out.

Our University athletics have compulsory financial support of the student body. Compulsory support for other Campus activities would not be begrudged. And it would develop that responsibility and personal interest in all our affairs which would give the graduate a broad-minded view in meeting the varied issues in actual life.

Class democracy is builded into our nation. The highest type of leadership is naturally at the top. Why should not, then, those below look to those above for command and direction? Under conditions such as ours, reform must start at the top of the heap.

"P."

ARE WE EDUCATED?

Everyone who goes to college, whether he be an Arts and "Grafter" or an Engineer, should come out educated. If necessary, Arts courses should be "fed" to the Engineers, and engineering to the "grafter." Now, what do we mean by the term "educated?"

Dr. Winship, in the Journal of Education uses the following questions as a test: Can you answer "Yes" to all of them?

1. Has your course (presumably your education) given you sympathy with all good causes and made you espouse them?
2. Has it made you public spirited?
3. Has it made you a brother to the weak?
4. Do you know how to make friends and to keep them?
5. Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself?
6. Can you look an honest man or a pure woman straight in the eye?
7. Do you see anything to love in a little child?
8. Will a lonely dog follow you in the street?
9. Can you be high minded and happy in the meaner drudgeries of life?

10. Are washing dishes or hoeing corn as compatible with high thinking as piano playing or golf?
11. Are you good for anything to yourself? Are you just good, or are you good for something?
12. Can you be happy alone?
13. Can you look out over the world and see anything but dollars and cents?
14. Can you look into a mud-puddle by the roadside and see the clear sky?

"R."

A NEW STAFF

With this issue the new staff takes over the control of "The New Hampshire." A number of times the editor has been asked, "Do you think that the students will support the paper next year?" Each time the answer has been "Yes." Why this answer? Because "The New Hampshire" is published for the students and the alumni by the students. Because it is the means by which they may express their opinions upon all subjects pertaining to every phase of campus activities. And finally, because "The New Hampshire" tries to print an accurate account of all events of interest to the students and to the alumni.

The publication of this issue was delayed so as to include a record of the results of the Student Elections held on Tuesday of this week, for this is the final issue of "The New Hampshire" for the year. Next fall it will start a new chapter in its history. Then it will be the "Official Organ of the University of New Hampshire" and not of New Hampshire College. It is the hope of the editors that "The New Hampshire" will reflect the growth of our institution.

The editors take this opportunity to wish all the readers a pleasant and prosperous summer vacation.

OUR FRIEND, MR. POTTLE

It was with the deepest regret that we learned that Frederick A. Pottle, assistant professor in public speaking, would not be here next year. This regret is purely of selfish character because Professor Pottle is leaving New Hampshire in order to complete his work for a doctor's degree. May happiness and the best of luck follow you and stay with you wherever you go, Mr. Pottle.

During the short two years that Mr. Pottle has been connected with the college he has done so many things for the college that is impossible to decide which one represents his greatest gift to the college. Perhaps the most noteworthy thing about Mr. Pottle is his pleasing personality, his cheerfulness, and his willingness to give his advice and assistance to anyone at any time. No matter what he may be doing whether it be putting up a piece of scenery for the presentation of some play or writing a letter in his office, Professor Pottle has always been willing to turn his attention to his petitioners' questions.

There are two things for which New Hampshire is greatly in debt to Professor Pottle. One is the placing of the college "on the debaters' map." Through his untiring efforts we have been represented in intercollegiate debating and we have had remarkable success in this line. This year, the second one in the history of the institution that there has been debating here an inexperienced team, made up mostly of underclassmen, met and defeated the team from Colby where debating has long been considered one of the most important phases of college activities.

The second outstanding debt of the college to Professor Pottle rests on dramatic grounds. It has been due entirely to Mr. Pottle's influence and work—hard work, too—that our old, little-thought of Dramatic Club has become the powerful society that it now is. He has built up the aims of the club and taught the members how to act in and how to appreciate good plays. Through them, the student body has been shown that it can have the pleasure of seeing a good play by the payment of a very reasonable admission.

Frederick Pottle's influence is not limited by any manner of means to the bounds of the campus or of Durham. Through his building up of the New Hampshire Interscholastic Debating and Prize Speaking Leagues, he has become known throughout the state. The growth of the debating league is nothing short of phenomenal. The year that Mr. Pottle took hold of it, it was drawing a last gasping breath. Mr. Pottle administered oxygen and the patient lived. It not only lived, but it grew and grew rapidly. So, in the space of two years it expanded from the holding of one or two half-hearted debates between two or three high schools, to the building of 40 spirited debates among 17 high schools and academies in this State.

"The New Hampshire takes this opportunity to thank Professor Pottle for all the assistance that he has rendered it, and it again wishes him happiness and success wherever he may go.

"The New Hampshire hopes that sometime, the sooner the better, after he has been awarded his doctor's degree, he will return to the University of New Hampshire.

SHALL WE HAVE AN INDEX?

Work is being done on the little booklet, "Official Information for Students," the University rule book. In the past this little book has been published without an index and, in order to find any particular item, one had to start on page one and read until the item was found. The other alternative has been to open the book in haphazard fashion and trust to luck that on that page would be the item sought.

Let's do away with this obsolete method and have a real honest-to-goodness index in the new "Official Information." Such an addition would be greatly appreciated by all the students and it would also be a great help to anyone who wanted to find anything in the book.

MEMORIAL TABLET TO BE UNVEILED COMMENCEMENT

Big Turnout of Alumni Expected for Reunions

160 TO RECEIVE DEGREES

Rev. Henry Ernest Dunnack to Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon—Commencement Address by Dr. Franklin H. Giddings of Columbia University

This year's commencement time will find an unusually brilliant program fittingly headed by the unveiling of the Memorial Tablet on which are inscribed the names of the New Hampshire men who died in the World War, thus completing the Memorial Field, the tribute of the Alumni to that service. A greater turnout of alumni is expected than ever before, and with Franklin Henry Giddings of Columbia as the commencement speaker, and Reverend Henry Ernest Dunnack of Augusta, Maine, in the baccalaureate pulpit, not even bad weather can prevent a hugely successful graduation.

The four days from June 16 to June 19 will see the campus a mass of colorful festivity, a glorious close to four years of happy college life. Alumni will be back to make new acquaintances and to behold the growth of our newly conceived University. Relatives, friends, and probably sweethearts will make a few score hearts pump faster under the sober caps and gowns and not a man or woman will take his or her diploma without unmixed feelings realizing that that is the close of their college life.

On Saturday, the annual Alumni Day, the festivities start off merrily when the freshmen and varsity baseball teams take the field at 10.30 o'clock.

Unveiling of Memorial Tablet

Immediately after dinner, at 1.30, will come the unveiling of the Memorial tablet with military ceremonies by the college battalion. Class reunions of the old "grads" will follow until at five o'clock all will gather at the gymnasium for the annual alumni meeting. At seven, it is expected that several hundred of the "grads" will proceed to demolish one of the fanous alumni banquets, served in the Commons. It will be an Alumni Day of which to be proud.

Sunday, at 10.45, the wearers of the caps and gowns, not to mention relatives, friends and sweethearts, will make their way to the gymnasium to hear the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Henry Ernest Dunnack, state librarian, Augusta, Maine. The remainder of the day will be devoted to Durham scenery until at 8 P. M. when the college band will give an open air concert on the campus.

Sobriety and graduation weeds will be laid aside by the men on Monday, Class Day, while the seniors attempt once more to take the measure of their professors in a baseball game which will start at ten o'clock. At 2.30 Class Day exercises will be held in the amphitheater, whose natural beauty will be a surprise to many new-comers. At eight that evening, in the same place, an outdoor performance of Milton's "Masque of Comus" will be given by the college musical and dramatic clubs and the women's department of physical education. Unusual lighting effects accompanied by singing and dancing should make this an impressive innovation.

Commencement Day Tuesday

Of course, the big day is Tuesday when one hundred and sixty men and women will receive the long wished for diplomas and a couple of extra letters to add to their names. The breathless event will take place at 10.30 A. M. when Doctor Franklin Henry Giddings, internationally famous professor of history and sociology at Columbia will give the commencement address, and a long line of "skullers" will march up to receive the little rolled sheepskins they have worked four years to possess. Then they will pass out with congratulations flying thicker than confetti at a lively ball, to wait until three o'clock when they will all attend the President's reception at his home.

The final fireworks will start shooting at 8 P. M. when, with caps and gowns discarded, the seniors and their sweethearts, friends and relatives will "do" the graduation ball held in the big "Gym."

SENIOR FORESTERS FINISH FIELD WORK

Have Been Mapping, Surveying and Studying Ex-Governor Bass's 2,000 Acre Wood Lot for Past Six Weeks—Returned Saturday

The 1924 Foresters have just completed six weeks field work as one of the last requirements of their course. The members of the class, Stanley W. Hamilton, Herman A. Rhodeniser, Morris Mansell, and Paul Newcomb, together with Prof. K. W. Woodward, who is at the head of the Forestry Department, have been in Peterborough, N. H., where they have been at work on Ex-Governor Bass's Estate.

The work consisted of mapping, estimating and surveying one-half of the wood lot, which contains approximately 2,000 acres, and carrying on a growth study of the other half. The men lived a typical Forester's life in a log cabin which Ex-Governor Bass built for them. Each man took his turn at housekeeping as well as the other duties which confronted them. The work was done from the standpoint of Botany and afforded an excellent chance for the principles to be tried out.

There was very good trout fishing and much wild game, some of which came back developed into very interesting pictures.

The men returned last Saturday much better acquainted with each other as well as the problems and difficulties of a Forester's life.

10th ANNIVERSARY OF AGENT WORK TO BE CELEBRATED

Plans Are Under Way for Pageant—Will Be Given During Farmers' and Homemakers' Week August 14-17

A celebration of more than usual importance is being planned in connection with the annual "Farmers and Homemakers" week, which is to be held here at the University August 14 to 17.

The session this year will be the tenth anniversary of the beginning of county agent work in the State. The different County Farm Bureaus are to join this year in trying to make the anniversary plans impressive. There will be speakers of National importance here at that time and plans for a pageant, to be given Aug. 17 are under way.

It is estimated that there were 5,000 people here last year and more are expected this year. The dormitories will be open to visitors and may be used for sleeping quarters, free of charge if one's own bedding is furnished.

The week offers an exceptional opportunity for friends of the University to visit the campus during the summer season as well as becoming better acquainted with the workings here.

The plans for the session are being made by J. C. Kendall.

THREE 1-ACT PLAYS BY MASK AND DAGGER

Presentation of "The Tents of the Arabs" Especially Good—"The Trysting Place" and "The Rehearsal" Also Given

Mask and Dagger closed a very successful year in dramatics with the production of three one-act plays during junior prom week. These three plays, Booth Tarkington's "The Trysting Place," Morley's "The Rehearsal," and Lord Dunsany's "The Tents of the Arabs," were far superior to any plays of the same type which have been produced at New Hampshire College. "The Tents of the Arabs" especially was staged in a manner approaching professional. The scenery for this play, showing the entrance to a city on the edge of the Arabian desert, was designed and painted by Albert Caulstone, '24, who is largely responsible for the successful production of the play.

In "The Tents of the Arabs," Florence Basch, '23, taking the part of a desert maid, and Daniel Byrne, '23, in the part of the Arabian king, who loved the desert better than the city, provided the audience with an excellent evening's entertainment by their usual delightful acting. They were supported by Harold MacDonald, '25, who took the part of a camel driver, who became king, Raymond Corey, '26, and Joseph Walsh, '25, who were advisers to the king, and Harvey Goodwin, '23, one of the camel drivers.

"The Rehearsal" is a humorous sketch showing the difficulties which amateurs meet with when they attempt to produce a play. The part of the stage director was taken by Margaret Osgood, '24, who has appeared in many successes which Mask and Dagger has produced during the past two years. The other parts in the cast were as follows: Scenery painter, Hilda Severson, '26; actors and actresses, Pauline Johnson, '26; Bertha Hill, '26; Dorothy Clarkson, '26, and Ruth Buxton, '25.

"The Trysting Place" dealt with the love affair of three couples who used as their "trysting place" the parlor of a hotel. The parts in this play were taken by Isabel Horner, '25, who took the part of Mrs. Briggs, the mother of two very romantic children, John Wheeler, '26, and Ruth Finn, '26, who played the parts of her children; Lucas Bannon, '24, in the part of Mrs. Briggs' old sweetheart, Corine Desautels, '26, in the part of a handsome widow, and Edwin Cobb, '25, who took the part of a young lover.

Editor's Note.—It was due to a misunderstanding that this account was not printed last week, not because "The New Hampshire" had no use for the story.

Grocer: "Did you say ivory soap?"
Customer: "Yes, I want to wash my head."

The rookie was grumbling about some dirt in his food—for he was at the tender age of rookhood before the time when a little dirt is necessary to lend the propor savor.

"'Smattr?' bellowed the mess officer. "Stop whining. Don't you know you're here to serve your country?"

"Yes, sir," was the humble reply, "but not to eat it. And I wanted to serve it—not have it served to me."

There was a man in Texas who went to a revival meeting and was prest to repent. He wavered for a time and finally arose and said: "Friends, I want to repent and tell how bad I have been, but I don't do it when the grand jury is in session."

"The Lord will forgive," the revivalist shouted.

"Probably he will," answered the sinner, "but he ain't on that grand jury."

A New York traveling salesman arrived late at night in a small southern town where a group of silent men were waiting the arrival of a secret agent of Ku Klux Klan. When the drummer stepped from the train, a man detached himself from the group, went up to the drummer and said: "Ku Klux?" "No," was the reply. "Klux and suits."

"Look, Daddy, said a little six-year old, "I pulled this cornstalk right up all by myself."

"My, but you are strong!" said his father.

"I guess I am, Daddy. The whole world had hold of the other end of it."

GORMAN TROPHY CUP WON BY FAIRCHILD

Captain O'Brien's Fighting Team From Ballard Falls Before Terrific Onslaught of "Ed" Shay's Followers—Game Ends with Score 13 to 11

Fairchild hall won the championship of the men's dormitories last Wednesday afternoon when the Ballard hall team got the little end of a 13 to 11 score in a seven inning game featured by the heavy hitting of both teams. Two home runs were made, one by Putney, the star outfielder for the Ballard hall outfit, the other by Applin, who caught for Fairchild. "Ed" Shay's men put the game on ice in the first inning when they landed on Jazukawiz for six hits and seven runs. Vatter pitched the rest of the game for Ballard, and did very good work in the box. He had ten strikeouts to his credit by the time that the game ended.

Jenkins pitched for Fairchild and although he was hit hard and frequently, he had Lady Luck with him and managed to get out of some mean holes. In the fourth inning, with two on, Putney hit what appeared to be another homer over the third baseman's head, but Rumazza, who was playing that position, leaped into the air and caught the speeding ball. Again, in the next inning, Hitchcock made a beautiful shoestring of O'Brien's long hit. Had he missed this, Captain "Bill's" name would have been in the home run list.

"Battler" Kirk was the most consistent hitter of the day. He got five hits in as many times at bat and scored three of Ballard's runs.

By winning this game, Fairchild becomes the first possessor of the cup offered by "Jimmy" Gorman to the champion of the inter-dormitory league.

The final standing of the league:

	W.	L.	Per cent.
Fairchild,	4	0	1.000
Ballard,	3	1	.725
Barracks A,	2	1	.666
Barracks B,	1	3	.250
Pettee Block,	0	4	.000

NEW FIELD ENTERED BY NEW HAMPSHIRE SENIORS

For the first time in the history of the college, New Hampshire men will enter the railroad industry. Warren Kelley, '23, who graduates as an electrical engineer and Angelo Volpe, '23, a mechanical engineer, are the first two graduates to enter this great field. They have positions waiting for them in the employ of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railway.

The extent of this field is little realized, but there are opportunities for men trained in all branches of engineering.

As my head drops on the seat
"Now I lay me down to sleep."

The other day a co-ed went into Gove's studio and showed him a picture of her brother, stating that it was one that had been taken of him ten years ago, and asking him to make one of him as he is now. Mr. Gove looked around and upon finding that she was alone asked her where her brother was. Whereupon the young lady said in some astonishment: "Why, he's home; but your sign says that you can make enlargements from snap-shots!"

'26: "I wonder why that young lady keeps staring at me?"

'23: "She has weak eyes and the doctor told her to rest them by looking at something green."

NEWS FROM MORRILL HALL

The Experiment Station here at the University has recently published three bulletins which may be obtained from the station by request. The first on "Orchard Culture," the second on "Potato Culture" and the third on "Dairy Farm Management."

The one on Orchard Culture was written by Prof. G. F. Potter and covers in 48 pages practically all the important recommendations of the University in regard to proper orchard culture. The information does not deal with that of apples alone, but also covers peach, pear, plum and cherry growing in the State.

The one on Potato Culture covers the recommendations for potato culture in the past by the department here and that of the leading potato growers throughout the state. It is the first bulletin covering all the details of potato culture and is expected to cover the long felt want. Material was furnished by Dean F. W. Taylor, Dr. O. R. Butler, Prof. W. C. O'Kane, Prof. M. G. Eastman, Prof. H. C. Woodworth and Prof. J. R. Hepler.

The third one which deals with Dairying was written by Prof. H. C. Woodworth and covers the problems of Dairy Farm Management in New Hampshire. It was written from the view point of a Dairy Specialist and covers such problems as, the marketing of milk and butter, the growing of dairy crops and rotations, the production of milk and other problems of interest to dairymen.

Six Suggestions on Best Methods for Cooking Vegetables—Tendency to Lengthen Haying Season—Co-operative Bean-Growing in Hollis, N. H.

Several ways of making vegetables more tasty and more nutritious are suggested by the University of New Hampshire Extension Service:

1. To restore crispness, soak in cold water until the amount of water lost has been restored.

2. All vegetables should be put on to cook in boiling water. This holds the major portion of the mineral matter and starch within.

3. Cook in a covered vessel in a small quantity of water sweet flavored vegetables such as peas, beans and squash.

4. Strong flavored vegetables such as onions, cabbage, and turnips should be cooked in an uncovered vessel in a large quantity of water.

5. Cook leafy vegetables rapidly. Tubers should be boiled less rapidly in order to avoid breaking up the vegetables.

6. Avoid overcooking vegetables, as this tends to make them tough and discolored.

Says Haying Season Ought to Be Longer

Is the haying season too short? There is already a tendency to lengthen it by the use of more clover and alfalfa hay, believes Mr. H. C. Woodworth, who thinks this is a move in the right direction. The growing of timothy hay alone tends to crowd practically the whole job into the month of July, thus "overheating the engine" and interfering with other farm operations. By using more legumes, the farmer can start haying early in June, continue at a less breakneck pace through July and August and get a more nutritious quality of hay. Already some 150 new seedings of alfalfa are reported throughout the state this year.

Boys Grow Beans Together

An adventure in co-operative farming has just been started by a junior extension club in Hollis, N. H. The six boy members have hired 1½ acres of land near the center of the town, reports Club Agent Harold W. Eastman, and each boy has staked off his share to care for during the season. The boys will plant shell beans. They have bought their seed and fertilizer co-operatively, and hired a tractor to plow and harrow the field. One of the boys furnished a bean planter and another a horse to plant the crop. The Indian Head National Bank of Nashua has loaned the club the money necessary to carry out the project, and all bills are being paid with checks signed by the club president and secretary. Mr. Edward Hills is the local leader and a fine spirit of co-operation among the boys is reported.

Wednesday the Lambda Chi team played the Tri Gamma team and turned over a 6-4, 6-2 win, while the Theta Chi veterans, Stafford, '23, and Atkinson, '25, put Caulstone, '24, and Walker, '25, of the Delta Pi Epsilon out of running. The result was 6-1, 6-4.

Between showers on Thursday the Lambda Chi's won their third game by out-playing the S. A. E.'s 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

This week the Theta Chi men will meet the Lambda Chi Alpha in the final round. Also the singles tournament will be held with practically every embryo champion doing his bit.

Track

"Cy" Wentworth, captain-elect of next year's football team, became the second New Hampshire athlete to win a varsity letter in four major sports, when he was awarded his track letter at the close of the present track season. An added distinction is the fact that the popular "Cy" becomes a four-time winner of the N. H. at the end of his sophomore year in college, a thing that will never be accomplished again because of the recently adopted three-year ruling which prevents freshmen from competing for varsity teams.

The only other man to earn a letter in four sports at New Hampshire was "Bob" Perry, captain of the 1921-22 basketball team. The versatile "Bob," however, was unable to complete his record until his senior year, when he was awarded his first letter in football and track.

"CY" WENTWORTH

Wentworth came to New Hampshire from Salem, Mass., high school, where he played both football and baseball. His work here promptly won him promotion to the varsity football team where he starred that year as a running mate for Dutch Connors. He played basketball on his freshman team, and in the same spring played regularly on the varsity baseball team at third base, earning his second varsity letter.

Last fall he added a star to his football letter, playing regularly at his old position, right half back. Last winter he added a basketball letter to his fast growing collection, by substituting at left forward for Danny Metcalf in the majority of the games played by the team. This spring the abundance of good baseball material gave Wentworth an opportunity to go out for Coach Cohn's track team. He came slowly at the beginning of the season, but after winning third place in two meets, he came through with flying colors in the triangular meet with Vermont and Mass. Aggies, winning the century dash and equaling the college record of 10 1-5 seconds for the event.

With two years of varsity sport ahead of him, Wentworth should round out a wonderful athletic career at the new University of New Hampshire and will undoubtedly leave a record of letters won and re-won that will stand for many years.

MRS. DEMERITT IS
SPEAKER AT GIRLS'
CONVOCATION THURS.

Outlines to Class of '24 Privileges and Responsibilities of Seniors—Urges Adoption of Reasonable Freshmen Rules for Next Fall

At Woman's convocation on Thursday, the junior girls, seniors-to-be, were given a senior privilege and responsibility talk by Dean DeMeritt. Later, the freshman girls received a similar talk on sophomore responsibilities. Mrs. DeMeritt asked the girls to remember that next fall, as sophomores, they would be expected to set an example for freshman girls, and suggested that the rules imposed by sophomores upon next year's freshmen be more helpful and less nonsensical.

"During the college year the freshmen women have seemed to divide themselves into three groups," said Dean DeMeritt. "The first one is composed of only a few girls, the shy ones who study all the time, taking no part in the social life of the college, and never breaking any rules. It will be the duty of these girls, before they return to college next fall, to make up their minds to put themselves forward and take some active

"The second group, the largest one, is composed of girls who study well, break a rule once in a while, and take part in almost every activity which is available in our institution. This is the type of girl that makes her presence felt in the college and the type that we want and need here.

"The third group, like the first one, is composed of only a few girls. These girls came to college because their parents sent them, or perhaps because they had good intentions. But because their heads have been turned by attention from upperclassmen, these girls dwindle away their time and just crawl along scholastically. If any of these girls intend to come back next year we ask them to come with the intention and desire to do better work or we ask them to stay away—we have no room for them here."

Prospects for Strong Freshman
Nine Next Year

With their victory over Tilton school the freshman baseball team completed their 1923 schedule leaving behind them a fairly good record. Eleven of the twelve games scheduled were played, the game with Colby Academy being cancelled on account of rain. Of this number, the team won seven and lost four.

Unfortunately, the first of the schedule was arranged with High school teams of rather inferior caliber so that the real mettle of the yearlings was doubtful until the middle of the season. Nevertheless, Dover High managed to take the freshman number in the first game of the season. Perhaps the fact that the Frosh had just returned from the annual picture battle with the Sophs accounts for their showing on that occasion.

It is expected that next year's freshman team will be a good one if the class has the average amount of baseball material, because the New England Conference ruling will keep all freshman material off the varsity squad. Freshman athletics will gain more importance here and in the other New England colleges. Garvin, Nicora, and O'Connor, of the 1926 class played regularly on the varsity team this year.

Numerals were awarded to fifteen men, five of them having already won the coveted sweaters in some other activity. Following is the list of numeral men and the record of the team for the season.

Plans for Next Year

SPORT TO BE ELECTIVE

Attendance Still Compulsory but Final
Tests Abolished—Eighteen
Classes a Term Required of all
Sophomores and Freshmen

The Department of Physical Education announces that beginning next fall the compulsory classes in "phys. ed." listed in the catalogue as 51-a 52-b, and so on, will consist of recreational exercise. Attendance twice a week for nine weeks each term will still be compulsory but the student will have the opportunity to elect the sport that he wishes to follow and the old system of final physical tests will be abolished. This will be welcome news to anyone who has taken even one term of "phys. ed." under the old system.

The approved list of activities will probably include baseball, basket ball, boxing, cross country, football, hand ball, hockey, indoor baseball, skating, skiing, snowshoeing, soccer, swimming, tennis, track, and volley ball.

Students unable to participate in any of these sports because of physical disability will be required to attend a theoretical course in physical education during the fall and spring terms. During the winter term corrective gymnasium work will be prescribed for them.

At the time of registration, students will be allowed to select the activity desired. A schedule of the time and place of the different sports, rules on attendance, method of grading, information regarding lockers, towels, and gymnasium equipment, will be printed in a special booklet to be issued by the Department and distributed to each freshman and sophomore next Registration Day.

Coach Swasey brings out the following points in favor of the new system.

1. A student may participate in the sport which has the greatest appeal to him.
2. All men dropped from the organized athletic squads may continue in that sport and receive further training from the section leaders, who will be directly under the supervision of the head coach of that particular sport.
3. Under this system a permanent interest in one of the so-called minor sports is often developed which will be followed up in later life.
4. The system allows a student to become familiar with a greater number of sports.
5. The system will prove especially valuable to students who will later engage in coaching athletics in the secondary schools.

Some of the activity leaders and coaches for next year have already been announced as follows:

Football, Prof. Cowell.
Baseball and basket ball, Coach Swasey.
Soccer, E. Jenkins.
Gym work, Director Swasey; assistant director, B. Menke.
Track, Coach Cohen.
Winter sports, Gunnar, Michelson, Intercollegiate ski jumping champion.
As Coach Swasey says, "The new slogan of this department is, enjoyable athletics for everyone!"

NEW COURSES ADDED
BY LANGUAGE DEPT.Third Year in Latin—Changes in French—Spanish to Be Given Three Hours a Week—To Have Another
Instructor on Staff

If you will look in the new college catalog under the head of Languages you will notice that several changes and additions have been made in the subjects offered by the Department of Modern Languages.

In Latin the two year-courses heretofore given have been changed in respect of subject matter in order to make them more interesting and mutually progressive, and a third year-course has been added, so that students who offer Advanced Latin for entrance to college can pursue the study of Latin for three years instead of two as was previously the case.

In French, subjects 7-a, 8-b, 9-c, has been changed to a General View of French Literature in connection with which a History of French Literature in French will be read; subject 16-a, 17-b, 18-c has been changed to Romanticism and Realism in French Literature of the Nineteenth Century; and subject 19-a, 20-b, 21-c has been changed to Recent Tendencies in French Literature in which literature produced in the last few years will be studied.

In Spanish, all subjects will hereafter be given three hours a week. Two new subjects have been added, 10-a, 11-b, 12-c, a fourth year-course in Modern Spanish Drama, and 13-a, 14-b, 15-c, a course in Spanish Composition and Conversation.

In German the advanced subjects have been changed to make each a more consistent unit.

Because of the increased amount of work in the Department of Modern Languages President Hetzel has authorized the appointment of a new instructor in French and Spanish for next year.
